DON'T FORGET TO CHECK YOUR PARENT MAILBOX LOCATED OUTSIDE THE OFFICE!!

Summer is almost HERE!!

The daycare is gearing up for a wonderful summer. We have lots of activities for all age groups. Each week the whole center will be doing certain themes and the activities will revolve around the theme.

Along with FUN, summer time brings along hot sun and BUGS. ALL children that will be going outside will need to have a permission slip for sunscreen and bug spray. This will be a one time form that you will need to fill out this summer. You can start bringing these items at any time. Please remember we do not supply sunscreen and can not apply it without a permission slip.

We hope your children have a wonderful and exciting summer.

Please remember! You must walk your children into the building and to their classroom. This is not only required by DHS but also a safety issue.

Please make sure to sign in and out every-day. This is required by Riverview and the State of Iowa.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Temper Tantrums

How To Avoid Temper Tantrums

- Catch your kids being good rather than reacting to them being bad. Many kids think negative attention is better than no attention & therefore throw temper tantrums.
- Give your child control over some little things such as what juice to drink for breakfast. This fills the need for independence.
- Change a child's environment when they become frustrated.
- Be consistent on your decisions. Your child will quickly learn what decisions you won't back down on.

Reasons Children Have Temper Tantrums:

Your Child may be:

- Hungry, but may not recognize it
- Tired or not getting enough sleep
- Anxious or uncomfortable
- Reacting to stress or changes at home
- Jealous of a friend or sibling
- Or possibly sick

Handling Tantrums

1. Remain calm. Shaking, hitting, or screaming makes the tantrum worse instead of better. Set a positive example for children by remaining in control of yourself.
2. Pause before you act. Take at least 30 seconds to decide how you will handle the tantrum.
3. Talk after the child calms down. Insist on a "cooling down" period, and follow up with a talk about behavior. Use this time to teach the child good ways to handle their emotions.
4. Comfort the Child. Tantrums scare most kids. Often, they are not sure why they feel so angry and upset when it's all over. They need to know that you didn't like their behavior, but you still love them.
